

STRIKE IN WEST END CONSOLIDATED

Six Feet of Good Shipping and Milling Ore
Has Been Opened Up In Crosscut.
On the 300-Foot Level.

West End is the "one best bet" in stocks in this section these days, and everybody in Tonopah with a few spare dollars is purchasing that security. The fact is due to the rich strike recently made, which reflects the greatest of credit upon the ability of Superintendent Brady of the West End company.

This strike is no seven-day wonder to those residents of Tonopah who know Superintendent Brady and appreciate his ability. They realize that it was through his incessant efforts that the great body of ore in the Belmont workings was uncovered. Mr. Brady, to whom all credit is due for the rapid development work in the West End and for the rapid raise in price of that stock during the past week or so, after making his master strike in the Belmont, resigned, taking his present position with the West End, for which company he had a friendship of long standing. Under his efficient management he has developed another property that will, in the near future, with the opening of operations in the Midway mill, which his company has recently purchased, prove a heavy dividend payer and a valuable asset to this district. Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. Brady for his development of the West End property.

The report for the week from the West End, which fully covers the new strike made early in the week, follows:

"The West End Consolidated Mining company has been very successful in the last three or four weeks in the opening up of new ore bodies. The work of crosscutting on the 300-foot level from the main vein, in a northwesterly direction, across the West End claim and along the east end line of the California claim, has now been completed and a very fine vein of shipping and milling ore has been opened up, now showing six feet of good ore. A drift will be run in a westerly direction on the vein and a series of raises will be put up, fifty feet apart, blocking out this ore body as rapidly as possible.

"In addition to this, the main vein of the West End property has been opened up on the 500-foot level, showing about 16 feet of fair grade milling ore. Some three months ago, a new vein was cut in the south, or in the hanging wall of the main vein of the property. This vein has been opened up by several crosscuts, from which drifting is now in progress, and the ore on this vein is now being blocked out in anticipation of the starting of the Midway mill, which has been taken over by this company.

"The work of repairing and rebuilding this mill is now being prosecuted and should be completed by August 1st, when it will be a first-class all-slimes plant. The mill now has twenty stamps, which are of the Boss Pattern, there being ten stamps on each cam shaft. These cam shafts will be cut in two and will be changed into four units, so that in case of a breakdown or repairs being necessary to any one of the four batteries, it will not necessitate the closing down of ten stamps.

"A complete new crushing plant will be installed; also classifiers, tube mills, thickeners and agitators, and a one-hundred leaf filter plant will also be installed, with the necessary pumps, motors, etc., for the operation of the mill. No concentrators will be used. When the mill is completed it should be capable of handling from 120 to 140 tons of ore per day. Fifteen to twenty men are at present at work repairing the mill. During the period of construction of the mill, no stopping will be done in the mine and the only shipments will be the ore which is extracted from development work. The ore now blocked out will be thus worked at a profit of at least four dollars per ton more than could be realized if it were shipped to the smelters."

WOULD ENFORCE USE OF SEWER AND GARBAGE

HOUSEHOLDER FAVORS THE PROPOSAL, BUT WOULD GO FURTHER.

Mrs. E. W. Bartlett, householder of Tonopah, is a strong supporter of the proposal that the sewer be made compulsory in the business section of this city. However, Mrs. Bartlett would go a step further and make it compulsory for every house, cabin and shack in the entire city to connect with the garbage system. She states that it is virtually impossible for a few residents to keep their places clean during these days of heavy winds unless every householder becomes a subscriber to the garbage system.

All that is necessary along this line is that each householder secure a receptacle and notify the chief of police that same is ready to be removed. The man on the box will do the rest. Should it be made compulsory it would greatly add to the cleanliness of the city of Tonopah.

The idea meets with the entire support of all persons with the least iota of civic pride in their make-up and will probably be carried to its conclusion without any action being taken by the local authorities.

VOLUNTEERS FINALLY ELECT A NEW SET OF OFFICERS

John Kirchen Is President and H. E. Epstine Vice-President of Reorganization---Many New Members Present

Most enthusiastic was the meeting of the volunteer fire department, held last night, at which new officers were elected, plans outlined for new by-laws and constitution, one-hundred and twenty-five new members reported and arrangements gotten under way for the establishment of the organization on a self-supporting basis.

John Kirchen was elected president, and H. E. Epstine, vice-president of the volunteers; William Hunter being named secretary and treasurer, and Louis Gregovich, financial secretary. A house committee will shortly be appointed, the president and vice-president being empowered to select this committee.

The next meeting of the organization will take place one week from tonight, and it is expected that the attendance will be considerably larger than was that of last night, which was most satisfactory to those who have taken an active part in the rehabilitation of the affairs of the department. At the next meeting the committee on constitution and by-laws will make a report.

Most gratifying was the report returned last night to the effect that 125 new members had thus far been secured and that the prospects for almost double this number were indeed bright. Every effort will be extended to double the number before the meeting next week.

"Dear Mr. Atkinson: I did not receive your letter of the 7th until yesterday or you should have had a reply before this. Words cannot express our feelings and I sincerely wish we were in a position to assist them in a material way in this kindness they have shown.

"My brother was born in Covington, Kentucky, October 18, 1877, and his full name is Frank Coyne Murphy; his middle name was mother's maiden name, but Frank always signed himself 'Frank C. Murphy.'
